ANNEXURE

THE MADRAS CATTLE DISEASE ACT, 1866
(Madras Act II of 1866 as extended to Manipur)

MADRAS ACT NO. II OF 1866.

(The Madras Cattle-Disease Act, 1866)

An Act for the prevention of the spread of disease among cattle in the Madras Presidency.

Preamble.—Whereas it is expedient to take measures to prevent the spreading of contagious or infectious diseases among animals in the Presidency of Madras, and, with that object, to prescribe by law in what way animals so infected shall be dealt with; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Act to be extended to such places, and during such period of time as the Chief Commissioner thinks proper.—This Act shall be put in force in such areas and during such periods of time, as the Chief Commissioner may, from time to time, direct by Notification in the Manipur Gazette.

2. Interpretation clause.—The following words and expressions in this Act shall have the meaning hereby assigned to them, unless there be something in the subject or context repugnant to such construction:—

"Magistrate" the word "Magistrate" shall include all persons exercising all or any of the powers of a Magistrate;

Number words importing the singular number shall include the plural number, and words importing the plural number shall include the singular number;

Gender words importing the masculine gender shall include the feminine;

"Animal" the word "animal" shall mean any camel, buffalo, horse, pony, ass, bull, bullock, cow, heifer, calf, sheep, lamb, goat, kid or swine;

the word "territory" shall mean the "Union territory of Manipur";

the words "Chief Commissioner" shall mean the "Chief Commissioner of Manipur."

3. Establishment of hospital-pounds.—Whenever this Act shall have been applied, as above provided, to any part of the territory, hospital-pounds shall be established in such places as the District Magistrate shall determine, and keepers shall be appointed to such pounds by the said Magistrate.

The village or villages by which every hospital-pound is to be used shall be determined and notified by the said Magistrate.

4. Notice by owner of cattle attacked by disease.—Whenever, in any part of the territory to which this Act has been extended as above provided, any animal is attacked by any contagious or infectious disease, it shall be the duty of the owner, or of the person in charge thereof, to give immediate notice to the keeper or the hospital-pound provided for the village or township in which the animal may at the time be.

5. Examination by pound keeper.—On receiving notice as aforesaid, the keeper of the hospital-pound shall, as soon as possible, examine the animal and shall decide whether it is necessary to place it in the hospital-pound for treatment.

6. Removal to the hospital-pound.—If the keeper of the hospital-pound should be of opinion that the animal has any contagious or infectious disease, he may thereupon require the owner of the animal or the person in charge thereof to place it in the hospital-pound.

7. Inspection of places in which animals, suspected to be diseased, are found.—Every keeper of a hospital-pound, or person thereto authorized by the District Magistrate shall have power, within the area for which he is appointed, to enter upon and inspect any premises or place in which any animal or animals, which he suspects to be labouring under any contagious or infectious disease, may be found, and to examine and inspect, whenever or wherever he may deem necessary, any animal or animals which he suspects to be labouring under such disease, and to require the removal of such animal or animals to the hospital-pound for the area

8. Cleansing of premises in which diseased animal has been or is. Disinfection of fodder, etc.—Every keeper of a hospital-pound, or person thereto authorised by the District Magistrate shall have power, within his jurisdiction to cause to be cleaned and disinfected, in any manner which he may think proper, any premises in which any animal labouring under any contagious or infectious disease has been or may be, and to cause to be disinfected, and, if necessary destroy d, any fodder, manure or refuse-matter which he may deem likely to propagate the said disease.

9. Expenses for food and treatment by whom to be borne.—From the time when any animal affected as aforesaid is taken charge of by the keeper of the hospital-pound, all expenses incurred on account of feeding and medical treatment for the said animal shall be met from the Consolidated Fund of India unless the owner, or person in charge thereof, desires to supply the food and medicines himself. Provided always that such food and medicines shall be such as the keeper of the hospital-pound may approve or direct.

10. Power to destroy diseased animals.—The keeper of the hospital-pound, or other person thereto authorized by the District Magistrate shall be empowered to destroy any animal either before or after it has been impounded as aforesaid, whenever it shall appear to him to be necessary to prevent the spread of contagion or infection.

Burial of carcass.—When any animal shall have been so destroyed, or shall die whilst in charge of the keeper of the hospital-pound it shall be the duty of the said keeper to have the carcass of the said animal buried at least six feet below the surface of the ground, and any cost incurred in so doing shall be met from the Consolidated Fund of India.

Bar of claim to compensation.—No compensation shall be claimable in respect of any loss incurred by reason of any act authorized by this section.

11. Owner to pay costs for animal cured.—Should an animal impounded as aforesaid recover from the disease under which it may have been labouring, the owner or person who was in charge thereof shall pay to the keeper of the hospital-pound, to be credited to the Consolidated Fund of India, the actual cost of the feeding and treatment of such animal.

Recovery in case of default.—Should he fail to pay the expenses aforesaid, then the said animal shall be sold by auction, and the sum realized by its sale, after deducting the amount of the expenses, shall be paid over to the owner, or the person who was in charge.

Owner when not chargeable.—Provided always that, in such cases as the owner or person who was in charge may elect to supply food and medicine, he shall not be required to pay any charges whatever.

12. Bar to removal without licence of animal in contact with diseased cattle.—No person having in his possession or under his custody any animal which has been in the same shed or stable, or in the same herd or flock, or in contact, with any animal labouring under any contagious or infectious disease, shall remove such animal alive from his land or premises without the licence of the keeper of the hospital pound for the area, or of some person authorized by the District Magistrate to grant such licence.

Licences.—Every such licence shall be in writing, and shall only permit the removal of such animal to some place where it can be conveniently kept apart from all other animals, until the hospital pound-keeper or other person authorized as aforesaid, is satisfied that there is no reasonable probability of such animal propagating the disease.

13. Penalty for failing to give notice when animal is attacked by disease.—If any person who may be in charge of any animal at the time of its being attacked by a contagious or infectious disorder shall fail to give notice to the hospital pound-keeper of the village, as required in section 4, the said person shall be liable, on conviction before a Magistrate, to a fine not exceeding rupees five for every instance of such neglect, commutable, if not paid, to simple imprisonment for any period not exceeding ten days.

14. Penalty for refusing to obey directions of cattle pound-keeper, etc.—Any person who shall fail to comply with the directions of a hospital pound-keeper, or of a person duly authorized by the District Magistrate in that behalf, as to the impounding any diseased animal; or to the disinfecting any premises or place where any diseased animal may have been kept; or to the disinfecting or destroying any fodder, manure and refuse-matter which may be likely to propagate the disease; or who may remove, without a licence, any animal which has been in the same shed or stable, or in the same herd or flock, or in contact with any animal labouring under any contagious or infectious disease, shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable, for every such offence to a fine of twenty rupees, commutable, if not paid, to simple imprisonment for any period not exceeding ten days.

15. Penalty for opposing seizure and impounding of diseased animals.—In any part of the territory in which this Act is in force, hospital pound-keepers, all police officers not below the rank of a sub-inspector and such other persons as the District Magistrate may specially empower, may seize and impound all animals suffering from contagious or infectious disease, and any person who shall forcibly oppose such seizure, or who shall forcibly rescue the animals after such seizure, shall be deemed to have committed an offence punishable under section 186 of the Indian Penal Code. (Central Act XLV of 1860).

16. Complaint of seizure by owner.—Any person whose animals shall have been seized as being diseased may prefer a complaint against the seizure, at any time within ten days from the date thereof, to any Magistrate.

Form of Complaint.—The complaint may be either verbal, in which case the substance of it shall be taken down in writing by the Magistrate, or written upon plain paper, and shall be preferred by the complainant in person, or by an agent personally acquainted with the circumstances.

Procedure thereon.—If, on examination of the complainant or his agent the Magistrate shall see reason to believe the complaint to be well founded, he shall summon the party complained against; and shall proceed to make a summary inquiry into the case.

If the seizure be adjudged illegal, the Magistrate shall award to the complainant such damages as he may deem to be a reasonable compensation for any loss or injury sustained from the unlawful seizure, together with all expenses incurred by the complainant in procuring the release of the animals; or, if the animals have not been released, the Magistrate, in addition to the award of damages, shall make an order for their release, and shall direct that the expenses leviable under this Act shall be paid by the party who made the seizure.

The amount of all damages and expenses so awarded shall be recoverable as if they were arrears of land revenue, according to the process prescribed for the recovery of arrears of land revenue.

17. Fees and fines to be credited to the consolidated fund of India.—All fines levied under this Act shall be credited to the Consolidated Fund of India.

Reward to informer.—Provided that it shall be lawful for the officer inflicting a fine under this Act to direct any portion thereof, not exceeding one-half, to be paid to the informer.

18. Power to make by-laws.—It shall be lawful for the Chief Commissioner by notice published in the Manipur Gazette to make and prescribe such by-laws as may from time to time seem necessary for the more effectually preventing the spreading of infectious or contagious diseases among animals; provided that such by-laws shall not be repugnant to the provisions of this or any other Act.

Penalty for breach.—A breach of any such by-laws shall render the party liable on conviction before a Magistrate, to a fine not exceeding rupees ten, commutable to simple imprisonment for fifteen days.
